

IIPF 2010

66th Annual Congress of the International Institute of Public Finance

Tax Evasion,
Tax Avoidance and Shadow Economy

Uppsala, Sweden

23-26 August 2010

UPPSALA
UNIVERSITET

Chairs of the Scientific Committee

Friedrich Schneider (University of Linz) and Clemens Fuest (University of Oxford)

Chair of the Local Organising Committee

Sören Blomquist (University of Uppsala)

www.akademikonferens.uu.se/IIPF2010

Call for Papers

TAX EVASION, TAX AVOIDANCE AND THE SHADOW ECONOMY

66th Congress of the International Institute of Public Finance

Uppsala, Sweden

23-26 August 2010

The 66th Congress of the International Institute of Public Finance (IIPF) will be held in Uppsala, Sweden, on 23-26 August 2010. Prospective contributors are invited to submit full papers no later than 12 February 2010. Both practitioners and academics are invited to participate.

Papers should be submitted through <http://editorialexpress.com/conference/IIPF66>

The theme of the Congress is Tax Evasion, Tax Avoidance and the Shadow Economy and focuses on how the tools and methods of Public Economics can serve to understand these issues. A broad range of questions fall under the purview of this topic, such as motivation for tax evasion/tax avoidance, causes and consequences of a shadow economy, the interaction of the shadow economy with the official one, the consequences of tax evasion and tax avoidance for public revenue development, as well as the understanding and controlling tax evasion and how government affects tax compliance, and the difficult topic of measuring tax evasion and the shadow economy. Plenary speakers will be invited to address this range of topics.

While the theme of the Congress is Tax Evasion, Tax Avoidance and the Shadow Economy, contributed papers on any topic within the field of public economics will be considered, as is traditional at IIPF congresses. Submissions are invited by all public finance economists in their respective fields of speciality.

The papers to be presented will be selected by a Scientific Committee. Submission of a paper is considered as a commitment to attend the Congress, subject to the condition that the paper is accepted by the Scientific Committee. Authors of accepted papers must join the IIPF before inclusion in the Congress program. Payment of the annual membership fee ensures a reduced registration fee. Non-members must pay a submission fee of €20 that will be credited against their membership fee when joining the IIPF as a member (submission fee payment: www.ifo.de/iipf/products.feesForm).

Membership includes a subscription to the journal International Tax and Public Finance (see also IIPF website, www.iipf.org), in a special issue of which selected congress papers will be published. To be considered for publication, papers must be submitted formally to the journal by September 15, 2010.

Submission of papers should include keywords as well as the full name, affiliation, address, email, fax, and phone number of the author in charge of correspondence. Only pdf files will be considered (make sure to embed all fonts to ensure the pdf file will be readable across systems).

Authors under 40 years of age who wish to be considered for the Peggy and Richard Musgrave Prize and the IIPF Young Economists Award should indicate this when submitting papers for presentation at the Congress.

For more information, visit either www.iipf.org or www.akademikonferens.uu.se/IIPF2010